The fourteen-acre community garden at 41st and Alameda in South Central Los Angeles was the largest of its kind in the United States. Started as a form of healing after the devastating L.A. riots in 1992, the South Central Farmers created a miracle in one of the country's most blighted neighborhoods. Growing their own food. Feeding their families. Creating a community. But now, bulldozers are poised to level their urban oasis. The Oscar-nominated documentary feature, "The Garden", follows the plight of the farmers, from the tilled soil of this urban farm to the polished marble of City Hall.
